International Youth Conference Edition 7th (2023)

The International Youth Conference (IYC) is a direct result of a call to action for youth attending the 68th UN Civil Society Conference (UNCSC), held in Salt Lake City, Utah, USA, from 26 to 28 August 2019. Following the 2019 UN Civil Society Conference (UNCSC), some youth convened to launch the International Youth Conference (IYC) with the support of the UN Civil Society Unit, Department of Global Communications and UN-Habitat. IYC is designed by Youth for the Youth. IYC takes place twice a year in hybrid mode. IYC's objective is to invest in young people all over the world, especially in global south youth to empower them in realizing their potential as changemakers, social innovators, leaders, thinkers, and strong forces for change in their local communities, nations, and regions. IYC4Youth is an action-oriented, safe-dialogue platform led by youth leaders focusing on a different theme in every upcoming edition.

IYC has successfully organized the 6 editions so far and the 7th edition of IYC will take place from 27 to 30 April 2023 in hybrid mode in the San Francisco Bay Area and Silicon Valley California, USA and will be live-streamed on our Facebook page, twitter, and YouTube channel. Theme for the 7th edition is “Inclusion and Development Through Innovation.”

California has one of the largest economies in the United States, the most diverse population, the richest cultures, entertainment, histories, and traditions, and spectacular tourism. California also has an environment for high-tech, agricultural, urban, and rural development and innovations.

The goal of the conference is to localize the Sustainable Development Goals and focus on how local governance and community service work collaboratively to address some of the most pressing challenges, including homelessness, youth unemployment, and disparity in digital literacy and access in underdeveloped communities.

Organized in cooperation with the DGC Civil Society Youth Representatives Steering Committee, UN-Habitat, Generation Next Network, and Vanguard Service Brigade Corp

Having become accustomed to the new normal, the world is now entering a new year. With new hopes, come the opportunity and the responsibility of creating a world young people can find their place in. Fresh leadership requires fresh thinking and perspectives. The Young Global Leaders Development Program aims at achieving just that. It will serve as a platform for young people to have conversations that will enable them to look ahead in the aftermath of the COVID19 pandemic.

The International Youth Conference 2021 intends the youth to be recharged, with better energy and momentum. The year ahead needs to start right, with the most important conversations, so that it ends right.
